Create user stories that fit with the following user situation:

A new college student has arrived on campus to begin their freshman year. They do not yet have a checking account, debit card, or credit card, but they do have a job starting in a week for which they can get paid by direct deposit. They need to begin accessing financial services, have the ability to get paid, make purchases, and manage their money.

To Do →← ⋯

As a college student, I want to be able to have my paycheck directly deposited into an account, so that I don't have to cash a check.

As a college student, I want to be able to pay monies owed from an account so that I don't have to travel to pay in person.

As a college student, I want to be able to schedule payments to parties owed so that I don't have worry about missing a payment.

To Do ➜← ...

As a college student, I want to be able to deposit money in the account of anyone I know so that I can quickly provide money to others.

As a college student, I want to be able to pay for purchases electronically so that I don't have to use cash.

As a college student, I want to be able to pay for purchases over time so that I can pay for an item in installments.

As a college student, I want to be able to view a record of my financial transactions from my laptop so that I can manage my finances at my convenience.

As a college student, I want to be able to view a record of my financial transactions on my mobile phone so that I can manage my finances at my convenience.